The process of receiving small grants funding begins with the project proponent - a national CBO or NGO- who contacts the SGP National Coordinator to receive project application guidelines and forms. With assistance from the National Coordinator the proponent prepares a brief project concept paper and submits this to the coordinator. If the project is judged eligible, the project proponent prepares a project proposal; in some cases, this step may be supported by a planning grant. The NSC reviews the proposal and either accepts it, rejects it, or returns it to the proposer with a request that further work be done on formulating and refining the project data.

Approved proposals enter the national SGP work programme. SGP grants are usually paid in three installments: an up-front payment to initiate the project; a mid-term payment upon receipt of a satisfactory progress report; and a final payment on receipt of a satisfactory project completion and final report.
